

Quarterly Performance Review

U Ethical Cash Management Trust - Retail

Quarterly highlights December 2023

- Whilst delivering a stable return, the Trust remains conservatively positioned and continues to offer high levels of liquidity
- Over the last quarter, the Trust generated 1.12% post fees, outperforming the benchmark by 0.05%.
- Deposit rates over the quarter dropped marginally with 3-month Bank Bill Swap rate (BBSW3M) rate increasing by 22bps.
- Considering the change in deposit rates and new funding opportunities, the portfolio still managed to increase its gross yield over the quarter by 0.16%.

Investment objective

The U Ethical Cash Management Trust - Retail aims to compare favourably with comparable cash management trusts through a combination of cash and cash equivalent investments.

It is a very low risk investment option and suitable for short term investment, while aiming to maintain a high level of capital stability. It aims to outperform the benchmark after fees over a rolling one-year period.

Market commentary

Global equity markets rallied over the December quarter with the S&P 500 Index rising more than 11%. Contributing to the momentum has been inflation trending lower and optimism central banks will cut interest rates in the first half of 2024. Economic growth has remained more resilient than expected with a 'soft landing' now expected for the global economy.

US core inflation remained steady in November at 4.0% and the federal funds target range has been maintained at 5.25-5.50% since July. On the back of more dovish commentary and forecasts, the US yield curve shifted down over the quarter with 10-year treasury yields dropping below 4%.

In Australia, inflation eased to 4.9% in October and remains above target levels driven by stickier services components. The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) increased the cash rate to 4.35% in November and next meets again in February. A tight labour market will remain a concern with the unemployment rate at 3.8%, but we are close to the interest rate peak domestically.

Corporate earnings have remained solid, although we expect more pressures to emerge as economic growth slows. While domestic consensus forecasts have declined over the last 12 months (excluding resources), globally we still see expectations as too high. Equity market valuations also look more stretched given the rally at the end of 2023.

Portfolio commentary

Over the December quarter, the Bank Bill Swap Curve saw material shifts upward and flattened, as the gap between the 6-month rate and 1-month rate narrowed by 17 basis points (bps).

The BBSW3M rate increased significantly by 22bps as the market repriced rate expectations, when a forecast dovish pivot by the RBA failed to materialise and instead, a 25bps hike was implemented. However, this saw deposit rates remain relatively steady and some wholesale rates rise.

Deposit rates relative to BBSW rates rose albeit not to the same extent, with deposit spreads narrowing by ~9bps at the 3-month mark over the quarter. This was indicative of broader funding demand as credit growth continued to slow over the quarter.

Whilst deposit rates did not move entirely in lockstep with market rates, the trust still managed to increase the portfolio yield by 16bps by locking in higher yielding longer term deposits whilst maintaining ample liquidity.

Performance for the quarter saw the Trust exceed the benchmark by 0.05%. This was naturally driven by bank term deposit premiums over wholesale market rates and allocation decisions between longer and shorter-dated deposits.
